PROSPECTS '75-76

And the beat goes on AND on.

In discussing season prospects a year ago, the opening line said "And the beat goes on. Syracuse has averaged 21 wins per year for the past four winters and in the process picked up invites to four straight post-season tournaments."

The Drive for 5 in '75 found the Orange enjoying its greatest season of the modern era, winning the NCAA Eastern Regionals and advancing to the finals in San Diego. SU was outmuscled by Kentucky and dropped an overtime heart-breaker to Louisville but captured the hearts and imagination of millions around the country with the scrappy, hustling team-type of play that has been the trademark of Roy Danforth teams.

Now the question is can Syracuse make its six straight post-season trips in 1976? The path may be a bit harder but the answer appears to be an unequivocal "yes."

Syracuse teams react well to pressure situations, seldom beat themselves, and have great tournament savvy. This combination will provide the formation from which to spring into the national lime-light again come next March.

Orange faithful should not panic if the club gets off to a slow start. Four of the first five games are on the road and in fast company — the Tipoff Classic at Clemson and the Steel Bowl in Pittsburgh. The month of February also looms as rough with seven contests on the unfriendly road, including visits to Penn State, St. John's and Rutgers, but by that time Danforth should have molded his troops into a finely honed quintet.

Graduation has not been kind. Gone from the sixth ranked Syracuse team (final AP poll) are starters Rudy Hackett and Jim Lee, the third and 10th career scoring leaders respectively. Rudy made so much happen inside and Jim took care of the outside business. These two will not be easily replaced.

Now for the good news. Three starters return — Capt. Chris Sease, Earnie Seibert, and Jim (Bug) Williams. Also on hand are Kevin King, Ross Kindel, and Bob Parker, all of whom made valuable contributions along the way. In addition, Danforth may have his three best freshmen recruits since his tenure began. These highly regarded individuals are Bill Keys, Dale Shackleford and Reggie Powell.

Marty Byrnes, who absorbed much on the bench as well as playing on the frosh-jv team, appears ready to move into a starting role at forward, joining Sease. Seibert and Parker are set at center, with Williams and King the starting guards.

Sease has needed only consistency to become a truly outstanding player and in the home stretch of the '74-75 campaign demonstrated this type of play. He can be a deadly shooter from the 15-20 foot range and is an amazing leaper at 6-5.

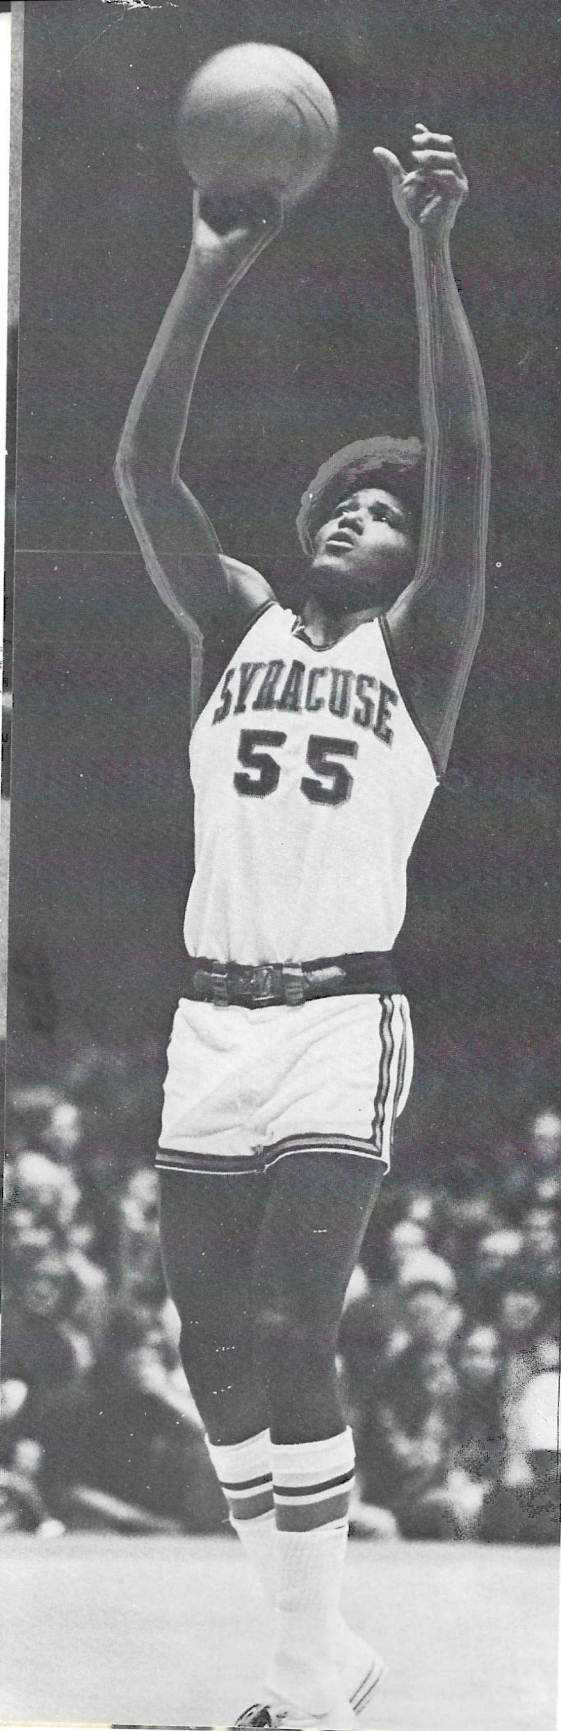

Seibert is a typical SU center — not a big scorer but don't ignore him or he'll kill you. Both his scoring and rebounding were around the 5.0 mark last year but he keeps the middle plugged and halts a driving inside attack. Parker developed strong in the playoffs and is a solid replacement.

Williams is one of the quickest guards in the country while King is moving to the backcourt after being a swing man. Kevin makes things happen. Kindel is a smart guard and a good ball handler who logs as much playing time as a starter.

Shackleford and Keys both figure strongly to make their presence felt as the season unfolds.

This may be Danforth's deepest team but also one of his youngest. This should be a great running team but the outside shooting may be questionable. There is a lot of learning to be done. Just how fast the team matures will determine just how far it goes. Syracuse, according to Danforth, doesn't start the season as a Top 20, but is one of the best in the East and will be a strong defender of its Eastern honors by the time March arrives.

Post-season trip No. 6 should be a certainty.

PLAYER SKETCHES

MEET THE CAPTAIN

55

Captain Chris Sease

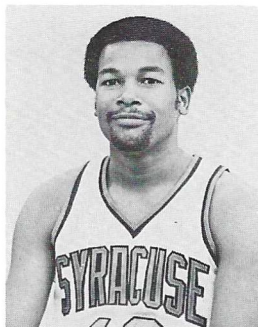

Sr., 20, 6-5, 205, Syracuse, N.Y.

Superman isn't the only one to leap over burning buildings. . .the "Rocket Man" has unbelievable leaping ability for one only 6-5. . . a genuine All America candidate. . . nearly unanimous pre-season All East pick. . .needs only consistency to become a great player and he displayed this trait much more in second half of 1974-75 campaign. . . can do everything. . .had 28 points against Niagara in opening round of ECAC Playoffs, 18 vs. La Salle, 10 vs. North Carolina, 12 against Kansas State, 18 against Kentucky. . .a streak shooter. . .8 for 10 from floor against St. John's. . .16 and 15 rebounds against Niagara and St. Bonaventure in playoffs. . .earned all tournament honors (ECAC). . . captain of the squad, a quiet leader who shows how rather than tells how. . .didn't go out for basketball in high school until senior year. . . lettered in track and football.

44

Marty Byrnes

So., 19, 6-5, 205, Pittsford, N.Y.

Marty gained "double" experience last year and it is really going to be beneficial this winter. . .while logging some time with varsity, Marty also played in nine Frosh-JV games, averaging 11.6 points and 10.7 rebounds. . ."a shining sophomore" says Danforth, who calls Marty "our best passing forward". . .is stronger and shooting well. . .appears to have claimed starting forward spot. . .six letters in high school, three each basketball and track (hurdles, triple jump), co-captain each squad. . .all county in both sports.

Scoring Summary:

	G	FGM-FGA	FTM-FTA	Reb.	Pts.	Avg.

10

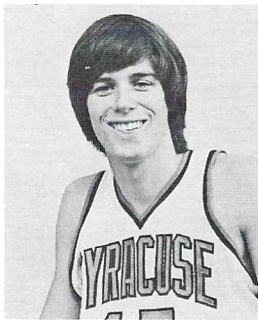

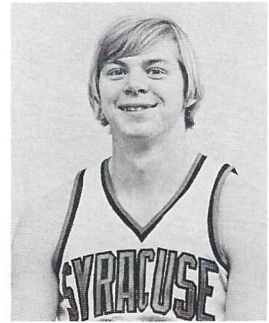

Mike Danforth

So., 19, 6-2, 185, Anderson, Ind.

Son of the coach, played mostly forward in high school and is trying to make adjustment to guard. . . "needs game experience at guard," says the coach and proud father. . . co-captain of football and basketball teams in high school, earning all county honors in both sports as junior-senior.

Scoring Summary:

	G	FGM-FGA	FTM-FTA	Reb.	Pts.	Avg.
Frosh	13	28-67	5-7	43	61	4.7

15

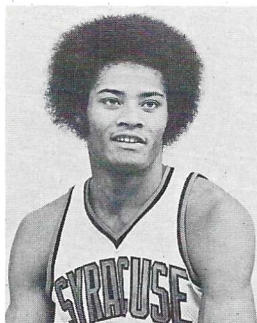

Bruce DeBord

So., 19, 6-7, 190, Lancaster, Pa.

Has great determination and wants to play. . . is a bull off boards and no one had better get in the way. . . 14.5 points and 6.9 rebounds for Frosh-JV with high of 30 points and 13 rebounds vs. Niagara. . . will give Orange added strength up front. . . seven letters in high school, 4 in basketball, two track, 1 football. . . captain of hoop squad. . . twice unanimous all county pick, all state, Greater Philadelphia All Star (first team), Dapper Dan Classic pick. . . league scoring and rebounding leader. . . wants to play pro ball and go to law school.

Scoring Summary:

42

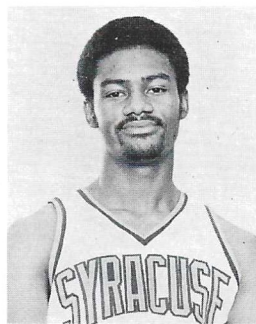

Kevin James

So., 19, 6-4, 190, Huntington, N.Y.

Slowed part of freshman year with injuries, still averaged 13.9 points for Frosh-JV with high of 14 (Buffalo, Mohawk Valley). . .has been switched to guard so is caught in year of adjustment. . .a Mark Wadach type of player who gives great effort, hustle with desire to match. . .all Long Island, prep All America at Lutheran where he earned three letters and was co-captain of team.

Scoring Summary:

Frosh	8	50-91	11-17	51	111	13.9

11

Larry Kelley

Jr., 21, 6-0, 160, New Haven, Conn.

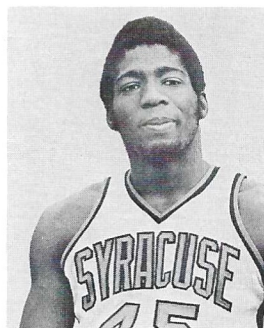

Starter for first eight games as soph, Larry is attempting to regain touch that enabled him to score 36 of his season's 54 points during this early span. . .looked better in pre-season practice than did when a starter. . .needs to work on ball handling. . .shoots well. . .eight against Army season high. . .all state in high school, captain of team.

Scoring Summary:

	G	FGM-FGA	FTM-FTA	Reb.	Pts.	Avg.

45

Bill Keys

Frosh, 18, 6-6, 212, Bristol, Pa.

"Will be outstanding," says Danforth of this youngster. . .strong rebounder, may be team's strongest asset by end of year. . .battling another frosh, Dale Shackelford, as first sub at forward. . .17.8 points, 19.8 rebounds in leading Bristol High to state championship as senior. . .credited with blocking seven shots per game and field goal percentage of .580. . .all state, all county, Dapper Dan performer.

20

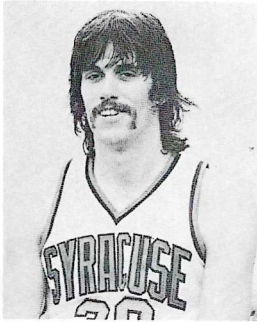

Ross Kindel

So., 19, 6-2, 185, Roselle, N.J.

Played in all but two games last winter, coming off the bench to spell Jim Lee or Jim Williams. . .started Temple contest while Williams sat out one-game suspension. . .hit double digits twice, Rochester (13) and second Penn State (12) game. . .fourth in assists with 79. . ."key cog in the success we have this year" says Danforth. . .outstanding knowledge of the game, good eye, slick ball handler, cool under pressure. . .won't start but will still get his 20 minutes per game. . .captain of both baseball and basketball teams in high school. . .all county, conference, and state honors. . .brother Roger played basketball at Seton Hall.

Scoring Summary:

	G	FGM-FGA	FTM-FTA	Reb.	Pts.	Avg.
Frosh	25	54-131	22-36	36	133	5.3

30 Kevin King

Sr., 21, 6-4, 175, New York, N.Y.

A swing man in past, King moves to backcourt, at his request, in final go-round. . .no telling quite what will happen but when Kevin enters a game he does make a lot happen on the court. . .his switch to backcourt enables Danforth to work newcomers in up front more quickly. . .a great penetrator. . .had 10 points in NCAA consolation game against Louisville. . .hit double figures nine times with highs of 17 (St. Bonaventure) and 15 (St. Bonaventure) 12 vs. North Carolina, 10 in Kansas State thriller. . .transferred from La Salle. . .co-captain of high school team, all city second team as junior and senior.

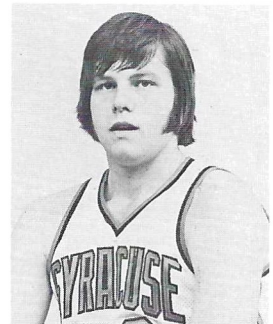

Scoring Summary:

	G	FGM-FGA	FTM-FTA	Reb.	Pts.	Avg.
Soph.	21	38-91	17-29	66	93	4.4
Jr.	32	93-198	40-68	88	226	7.1

53

Robert Parker

Jr., 21, 6-9, 220, Rochester, N.Y.

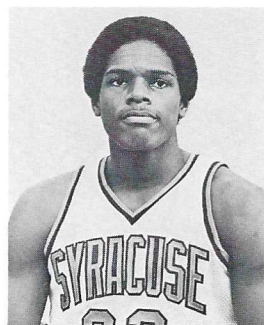

A good big man who does things that one expects out of a 6-5 player. . .came on strong late in season and scored 23 of his year's 51 points during the ECAC and NCAA playoffs. . .had eight against Kentucky, six vs. Louisville. . .in better physical shape than last year. . .will become more and more valuable as he gains experience. . .started St. Bonaventure (1st) game when Seibert sidelined by flu. . .was a goalie on high school soccer team as well as lettering in baseball (pitcher). . .all county hoop honors.

Scoring Summary:

	G	FGM-FGA	FTM-FTA	Reb.	Pts.	Avg.
Frosh	15	85-181	33-46	194	203	13.5
Soph.	26	21-50	9-22	49	51	2.0

32 Reggie Powell

Frosh, 18, 6-5, 190, Fayetteville, N.C.

"Has more pure potential than anyone on team but has everything to learn" is the way Danforth assesses this young unknown from Carolina country. . .strong pure jumper, excellent rebounder, only time will tell just how far he will go. . .17.2 scoring and 13.9 rebounding average in high school. . .all city-county, all conference, all state. . ."Reverend."

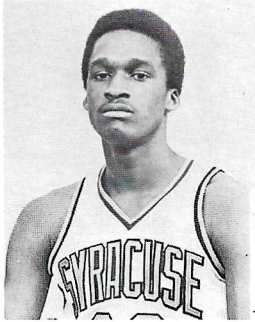

50 Earnie Seibert

Jr., 21, 6-9, 230, Copiague, N.Y.

Continues the tradition that centers at SU are not big scorers but make many intangible contributions that don't appear in the box score but help make the Orange a big winner. . .high of 13 against Northeastern, 12 vs. La Salle (first meeting). . .11 rebounds vs. Temple, 10 against Buffalo. . .has lost weight which has helped his quickness. . .shooting and running better in pre-season drills. . .has displayed more maturity. . .gets rid of ball well, chokes off inside action. . .nine letters in high school (football, basketball, soccer). . .all county, all league three years in row. . .married, has daughter, Erica Jill, born in September.

Scoring Summary:

	G	FGM-FGA	FTM-FTA	Reb.	Pts.	Avg.
Frosh	15	111-208	29-46	210	251	16.7
Soph.	31	58-141	22-36	144	138	4.5

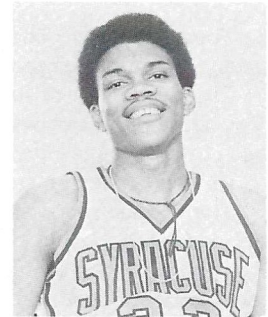

33

Dale Shackelford

Frosh, 18, 6-6, 195, Utica, N.Y.

Could be a starter by mid-season if early showings are indicative of his potential. . . accurate passer, good rebounder. . . "very mature for only a freshman" claims Danforth. . . four letters in basketball, one each in track and football. . . captain of hardwood team. . . all city, all league, all county, all state, Prep All America. . . MVP on team three years straight. . . "Dr. Shack," "Shack."

22

Jim Williams

Jr., 21, 5-10, 165, Buffalo, N.Y.

"One of the quickest players in the country" says the Orange skipper and Kansas State is sure to agree. . . with eight seconds left in regulation and Orange two down, Williams took inbounds pass, scooted up court and hit Rudy Hackett who tossed in left handed hook at buzzer to send game into overtime, after which it was all SU. . . became starter in ninth game of season and really assumed the responsibility. . . 19 points against North Carolina on 9 for 11 shooting, mostly all outside. . . 10 other games in double figures. . . 101 assists made him second only to Jim Lee (115). . . played in 13 varsity games as frosh, including one start. . . captain of high school team, all Western New York, all state.

Scoring Summary:

COACHING STAFF

HEAD COACH ROY DANFORTH

- Seven years, 128-62
- NCAA, 1973-74-75
- NIT, 1971-72
- Co-East Coach of Year, 1975
- Post-Season Record 6-6
- Four-year Frosh record, 55-8

There is little to change in Roy Danforth's biography other than to say that he has been even more successful!

The first graph of his bio last year was as follows — "In his six years as head coach, Roy Danforth has given Syracuse basketball some of its finest hours. His teams have been interesting, exciting and successful — a real winning combination."

As another season starts, change the six to seven and one is up to date.

The Orange soared to newer heights last winter, earning a fifth straight post-season bid and advancing all the way to the Final Four in San Diego before losing. SU won the first ECAC Upstate tournament to qualify for the NCAA then stunned even its most loyal followers by winning the Eastern Regionals.

The Indiana native was appointed head coach in 1968 and his first campaign was the only losing one, the team posting a 9-16 mark. But the die was cast from which the big jump forward was launched. After a 12-12 campaign, the Orange surged to 19 wins and the first invite to the NIT in Madison Square Garden.

Danforth played four years of collegiate ball at the University of Southern Mississippi and by the time he received his degree in 1962, had become the fifth leading scorer, had captained the team, and had earned Little All America honors.

He spent a year as an assistant coach at his alma mater before becoming head coach at Pearl River (Miss.) JC. In 1964 he became freshman coach at Syracuse, taking over from Fred Lewis in 1968. Lewis had been Danforth's college coach.

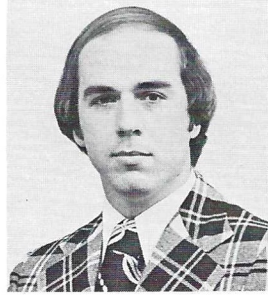

Danforth served in the 11th Airborne and played on a team that went to the finals of the All-European Army tournament.

Roy has a son, Mike, a freshman at SU, another son Warren, and two daughters, Charlotte and Neola. He serves on the District II editorial committee of the National Basketball Coaches Assn., and is a member of the UPI coaches panel. In 1974, he was inducted into the University of Southern Mississippi hall of fame.

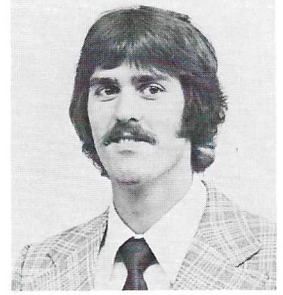

ASSISTANT COACHES

JIM BOEHEIM

TOM GREEN

MARK MEADORS

Three former Orange cagers serve as assistants — Jim Boeheim and Tom Green with the varsity, Mark Meadors with the Frosh-JV's.

Boeheim, '66, is on hand for his sixth campaign while Green, '71, is in his fourth year. Meadors, a senior, was tapped by Danforth to handle the coaching chores of the Frosh-JV team.

Jim teamed with Dave Bing to lead the Orange to the finals of the NCAA Eastern Regionals in 1966, averaging 15 points a game as a senior. Jim had a tryout with the Chicago Bulls and spent five years playing in the Eastern League.

"Jo Jo" was hired as a fulltime assistant this spring after being on a parttime basis. Tom was a member of Danforth's first varsity team and as a senior led SU to NITs. He taught in New Jersey for a year and was freshman coach at Drew University before returning to his alma mater.

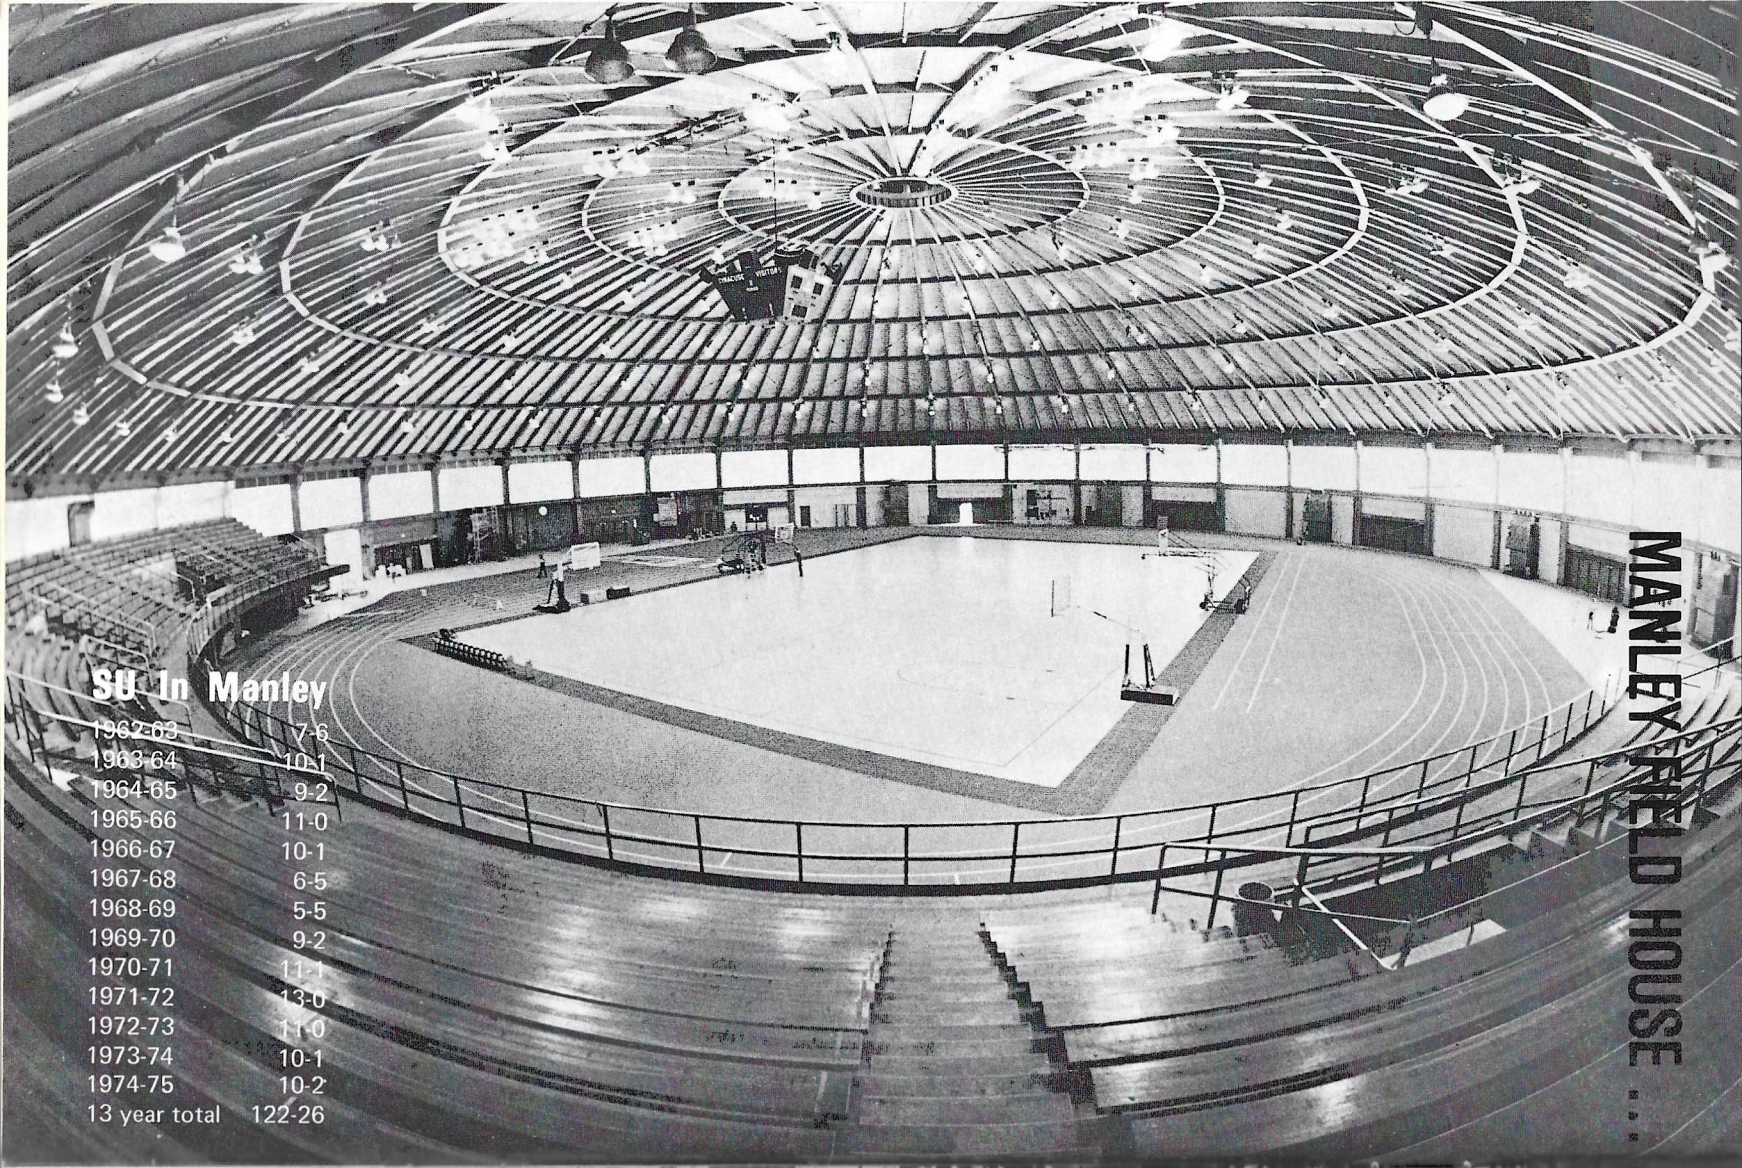

Meadors desires to become a coach following graduation so when the opportunity arose to gain some valuable experience now he was delighted to accept. Mark was the leading scorer for the freshmen.
